User Documentation

GemsTracker can be used by people in a variety of roles. For instance:

- Patients or respondents receive an email with a link. The link directs them to a Gemstracker page where they see and overview of the questionnaires to be completed.
- Healthcare workers log in to a Gemstracker site, where they fill in information about patients, or look up answers to questions filled in by a patient.
- Site administrators can regulate who can have acces to the site and associated rightmanagement.
- Researcher or quality managers will access a GemsTracker site to set up their questionnaire distribution and measurement tracks.

We have started to write some general user documentation to show how the Gemstracker functionality works for the different user(groups):
